

Principal's update

As we reach the end of another successful academic year, I would like to thank everyone in the Montem Academy community for your continued support and commitment.

Returning to Montem as Principal has been a privilege. My first few months have been incredibly rewarding, and I have been inspired by the enthusiasm of our pupils, the dedication of our staff, and the support of our families. It has been wonderful to reconnect with such a caring and ambitious school community.

There has been so much to celebrate this year, from excellent academic progress and sporting achievements to outstanding music performances, exciting educational visits, and a wide range of enrichment opportunities. Throughout it all, our pupils have demonstrated resilience, enthusiasm, and ambition, making us all incredibly proud.

Thank you to our staff, governors, parents, and carers for your invaluable partnership throughout the year. To our Year 6 pupils, we wish you every success as you begin secondary school, and to all our families, I hope you have a safe, restful, and enjoyable summer. We look forward to welcoming everyone back in September.

Mrs Nel
Principal

Dates for your diary

Thursday 3rd September at 8.40am

First day of school for children - attendance expected: 100%.

Attendance

Attendance will be a key priority at Montem next year. Every day in school matters, and regular attendance is essential for every child to reach their full potential. By working in partnership with families, we aim to achieve our 97% attendance target, providing early support where needed and ensuring every pupil has the opportunity to learn, grow, and thrive.

There is a new attendance initiative starting in September, so the children should look out for details about the 97% race!

Montem in Concert

Montem in Concert was a fantastic celebration of our pupils' musical achievements, held in partnership with Slough Music Service on Friday 10th July 2026.

The concert featured our talented ukulele, guitar, violin, and cello musicians, who performed with confidence, enthusiasm, and pride. Each performance reflected the hard work, dedication, and progress our pupils have made throughout the year, while highlighting the important role that music plays in enriching life at Montem Academy.

A huge thank you to our music teachers, Slough Music Service, and all the families and friends who came to support the event. We are incredibly proud of all our performers and look forward to celebrating many more musical successes and memorable performances in the future. 🎵

"Wow, I am still absolutely bursting with pride! I couldn't be prouder of every single one of our amazing Montem Academy musicians who performed in our "Montem in Concert" showcases. Performing in a live show takes so much hard work, practice, and bravery, and honestly, they all knocked it out of the park!"

A massive thank you to the Slough Music Service: Miss Connor & Mr Gibbons for working with the children playing the ukulele to make this day happen. A huge thank you to all the families who came out to support the kids. But most of all, a huge well done to our performers - you all worked so hard, and you sounded absolutely brilliant! Keep making music!"

Reminder: Summer Reading Challenge 2026 – Read to the Beat!

A reminder that the Summer Reading Challenge – Read to the Beat! is now underway!

A few weeks ago, we welcomed a representative from Slough Library, who introduced the challenge to our pupils during a special assembly.

Children can take part by reading six library books over the summer, collecting rewards along the way. Everyone who completes the challenge will receive a certificate and medal, while younger children can join the Mini Challenge and earn stickers.

The challenge is free to join and runs from 30th June - 12th September, making it a fantastic way to keep children reading and enjoying books throughout the summer holidays.

We encourage all families to visit their local library and take part. Happy reading!

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about

GROUP CHATS

Occurring through messaging apps, on social media and in online games, group chats are among the most popular ways that young people engage with their peers online. Involving, by definition, three or more individuals, these groups allow users to send messages, images and videos to everyone in one place. While they are useful for helping friends, people with shared interests or members of a club to communicate and coordinate activities, they can also leave young people feeling excluded and bullied – as well as providing opportunities for inappropriate content to be shared and viewed.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

BULLYING

Unkind comments or images which are purposely aimed at an individual can be shared freely in a group chat – allowing and often encouraging others to join in the bullying behaviour. If this content is shared in a group of their peers (especially a larger group), it serves to amplify the hurt, embarrassment, anxiety and isolation that the victim feels.

EXCLUSION AND ISOLATION

This common issue with group chats can happen in several ways: starting a new group, for instance, but deliberately excluding a certain child. Likewise, the chat may take place on an app which one child doesn't have access to, meaning they can't be involved. A child can also feel isolated when a group chat is used to discuss or share images from an event that everyone else but them attended.

INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

Some discussions in group chats may include inappropriate words, swearing and unsuitable images or videos. These could be viewed by your child if they are part of that group, whether they actively engage in it or not. Some chat apps have a disappearing message function, so your child may be unable to report something they've seen because it can only be viewed once or for a short time.

SHARING GROUP CONTENT

It's important to remember that – while the content of the chat is private between those in the group – individual users can easily share a message, photo or video with others outside of the group or screenshot what's been posted. The risk of something your child intended as private becoming public (and potentially going viral) is higher if there are people they don't know well in the group.

UNKNOWN MEMBERS

Within larger group chats, it's more likely your child will be communicating with people they don't really know. These strangers may be friends of the host, but not necessarily friendly toward your child. It's wise for young people not to share personal details and stay aware that they have no control over the messages and images they share after they've put them online.

NOTIFICATIONS AND FOMO

A drawback of large group chats is the sheer number of notifications. Every time someone in the group messages, your child's device will be 'pinged' with an alert; potentially, this could mean hundreds of notifications a day. Not only is this highly distracting, but young people's fear of missing out on the latest conversation results in increased screen time as they try to keep up with the chat.

Advice for Parents & Carers

CONSIDER OTHERS' FEELINGS

Group chats are often an arena for young people to gain social status. This could cause them to do or say things on impulse, which could upset others in the group. Encourage your child to consider how other people might feel if they engaged in this behaviour. If your child does upset a member of their group chat, support them to reach out, show empathy and apologise for their mistake.

PRACTISE SAFE SHARING

In any online communication, it's vital for young people to be aware of what they're sharing and who might potentially see it. Discuss the importance of not revealing identifiable details like their address, their school or photos that they wouldn't like to be seen widely. Remind them that once something is shared in a group, they lose control of where it may end up and how it might be used.

GIVE SUPPORT, NOT JUDGEMENT

Remind your child that they can confide in you if they feel bullied or excluded in a group chat, instead of responding to the person who's upset them. Validate their hurt feelings and help to put them back in control by discussing how they'd like to handle the situation. On a related note, you could also empower your child to speak up if they're in a chat where others are being picked on.

AVOID INVITING STRANGERS

Sadly, many individuals online hide their true identity to gain a child's trust – for example, to gather information on them, to exchange inappropriate content or to coax them into doing things they aren't comfortable with. Ensure your child understands why they shouldn't add people they don't know to a group chat – and, especially, to never accept a group chat invitation from a stranger.

BLOCK, REPORT AND LEAVE

If your child is in a chat where inappropriate content is being shared, advise them to block the users sending the material, report them to the host app or platform and exit the group. If any of this content could be putting a minor at risk, contact the police. Emphasise to your child that it's OK for them to simply leave any group chat that they don't feel comfortable being a part of.

SILENCE NOTIFICATIONS

Having a phone or tablet bombarded with notifications from a group chat can be a massive irritation and distraction – especially if it's happening late in the evening. Explain to your child that they can still be part of the group chat, but that it would be healthier for them to turn off or mute the notifications and catch up with the conversation at a time which better suits them.
